

For the attention of (Principal's name, educational body etc)

It has been brought to my attention that my child's teacher (name) has been directly promoting and encouraging the COVID 19 vaccination to students in attendance during online lessons (or via social media etc).

As a concerned parent I do not approve nor consent to my child being coerced into a medical intervention. Especially one that is without a health and safety assessment or a full risk analysis, and also without parental consent and consultation.

I am writing to ensure you understand your obligations as an education provider and that you are aware of the legal implications of providing medical advice to students without parental consent. It is the parent's responsibility to make an informed decision with regard to all medical interventions regarding their child during this decision making process.

As a parent I communicate to you that I do not approve or agree to my child being coerced or reminded by teaching staff to be a recipient of a medical intervention without my knowledge or consent. It is your obligation to respect a parent's decision without any further consequences to my child, including direct or indirect discrimination or coercion.

The aforementioned claim and request hold personal responsibility for you and your teaching staff. You are advised to ensure you understand the contents and the implications of any further coercion to my child of a medical intervention.

It is my will that this direction is upheld and not unlawfully breached in any manner.

Yours sincerely,
